

Nathan Egan '01, CEO + Founder, Freesource, LLC.

Formerly an executive at LinkedIn in its early growth years, Nathan Egan is now the CEO + Founder of the social media training and consulting firm, Freesource, LLC. In less than 12 months, Mr. Egan has grown Freesource from an “idea” in his garage to world-class company headquartered in Liberty Place in downtown Philadelphia. Today, Freesource services large organizations with clients ranging from Forbes, and Yellowbook to Experian Decision Analytics, Mandarin Oriental, and AARP. Mr. Egan holds his BS from Cornell’s School of Hotel Administration (2002) and recently earned his executive format MBA in Business Technology Optimization from Villanova University’s School of Business (2008). Mr. Egan lives in Kennett Square, PA with his wife Nancy Egan and two children, Van (age 4) and Brook (age 2). In his “spare” time when he isn’t with his family or clients, Mr. Egan enjoys running and biking (especially in combined duathlon events).
